FEATURE HOUSE
TONIGHT

"THE CODE OF MARCIA GRAY"
Starring Constance Collier. The wonderful personality of Constance Collier as Marcia Gray makes her part one of universal appeal. Every woman will find in the great crisis in Marcia Gray's life a marvelously exact duplication of what she would have to do, and experience, should she meet the same problem. A charming production.

FRIDAY—"The Immigrant." Featuring Valerka Suratt. Among those who appear in support of Miss Suratt are Thomas Meighan, Theodore Roberts, Ernest Joy and Jane Wolf.

SATURDAY—"Mice and Men." Marguerite Clark, the fascinating little star, is in one of the most exquisite Paramount picture productions.

Today and tomorrow, I will have extraordinary features. Every foot of them interesting. Don't miss a one. Each one a Paramount. The picture, "Immigrant," tomorrow, was shown in Oklahoma City. Their prices were twenty-five cents. The costumes they wear are elegant. I know the ladies like elegant costumes.

Coming the Fourth of July, Billie Burke in "Gloria's Romance," supported by Henry Kolker. A motion picture novel by Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes. Most lavishly produced. An achievement in a class by itself. Tender, sympathetic and beautiful story. This will be a most wonderful picture.

Our house is air cooled, the coolest place in the city. Four full shows a day. The best pictures. Come and enjoy yourself for a couple of hours.

SUPPLY OF HORSES IS DEPLETED

By United Press.
Washington, June 22.—On the report of army officers that the European war has robbed the United States of most of its suitable cavalry horses, Senator Pittman of Nevada is fathering a bill for government aid in breeding a new supply.

Attention was centered on this military weakness of the country when officers were able to buy cavalry mounts for the Mexican campaign only at unusually high prices, and those of inferior quality.

Officers reported to Pittman before he introduced his bill that there are only 70,000 cavalry horses in the country suitable for immediate use. Since the European war opened, 1,500,000 American horses and mules have been exported.

"Horses for cavalry should be rather small, decidedly hardy and intelligent," said Senator Pittman today. "We have plenty of heavy horses for commercial use, but the auto truck has largely done away with their military value. What is needed is a supply on which to do scout duty."

"This breed is obtained by the crossing of thoroughbred and western plain stock. The co-operation of breeders of the eastern thoroughbred stock with western growers, under the supervision of the federal government, is required. There is no feature of the preparedness program more pressing than the creation of a suitable cavalry horse type."

The $400,000 sought by Pittman is under consideration by the appropriations committee.

DOTS FROM DUTTON.

Little Pauline Williamson was quite sick last week.

Miss Susie Stone of Chickasha is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Dave Statton and baby of Tuttle are visiting relatives here.

Misses Pearl McPhail and Hazel Dowe called at the Graham home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Chas. Williamson and Mrs. Forest Williamson called on Mrs. Bell Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. McPhail and Mrs. Dowe were pleasant callers at the Bell home Monday afternoon.

George Downey now drives a handsome Studebaker which he purchased last week.

Misses Tibbets, Brock and Downey and children were Sunday guests of the Bell family.

Mrs. Brock and daughter Effie were Pecoset shoppers Monday, also callers at the Hurst home.

Arthur Brown and Mr. Winder went to Anadarko Monday to bring out a car that had been shipped to the last named gentleman.

J. R. McPhail is justly proud of the record he has made with his tractor engine, which draws three binders at once. He has cut six hundred acres of wheat and is now beginning the oats harvest.

Since our last writing three births have occurred in our neighborhood as follows: To Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hornberger on June 5, a girl; Mrs. and Mrs. Lloyd Triplett and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Triplett each a boy.

Rev. Pankey delivered an interesting sermon last Sunday on "What God Looks Like," showing that it depends on the individual attitude assumed; to some He is everything lovely, to others indifferent. All branches of church work are progressing nicely under the leadership of Mr. Pankey and his estimable wife.

At a meeting of the Dutton Community club on the evening of June 12, Mr. Wamsley reported, as chairman of the committee, bylaws and constitution, which were unanimously adopted. The club is growing in interest and will give a literary program at the next meeting, June 26. All are cordially invited to attend.

During an electrical storm recently the Kees residence was struck by lightning and set on fire but by prompt work of Mr. Joy Kees the fire was extinguished before much damage was done. One of the strange forces of lightning was demonstrated when it melted the glass over a picture and tore the frame up but left the picture unharmed. This is the fourth house within a half mile to be struck by lightning.

Mr. Wilson, who is at the head of the agricultural department of Oklahoma, was to have lectured at the Dutton church on the evening of June 15, but just at the time for the people to go a threatening cloud gathered so the lecture had to be postponed. However Mr. Wilson, with Mr. Cooper and Mr. Monteller, agents of Grady and Caddo counties, came out, showing that they keep their dates when possible.

Olin Bell, who is a student in the Oklahoma University, spent a few days at home after the final examinations for the last semester, but returned to Norman in time to enroll for the summer term. He talked entertainingly of a trip he had made with the geology class to the Arbuckle mountains for practical research. He is specializing in geology and Castilian languages and is very enthusiastic about prospects for the western hemisphere after the European war closes.

The Dutton community has been visited by splendid rains lately. Crops and gardens had begun to need moisture as we had not gotten a good rain since March 29, and on account of cool weather nothing had grown as it should, but now it is surprising the growth every thing is making. Pretty soon the corn stalk will be made and with a reasonable amount of rain in July another good crop will be made. Alfalfa has been fine and saved in good condition. All wheat has been harvested and oats are ready to cut. There is an increased acreage of cotton which is in fine condition. There is some Sudan grass too, and it looks well.
